

Excavating History

Post-Visit

Have the students write a site report on their archaeology experience at The Highlands. Students should describe what they found, what it can tell them about the people who used it and any other information that they feel is important. Students can use the “archaeology worksheet” from their visit to help with their report. They should include terminology from their visit (such as sifting, washing, and analyzing).